MCDUGALL'S MUSINGS

Three Months' Work

Since the beginning of August, when we were considered to be the civilized countries of Europe "Cried havoc and let loose the dogs of war," what has been the result of this three months' bloodshed and carnage. Is the world any better? War—fighting and doing everything possible to injure your neighbor—is not a new element in human nature. We read in an old Book that Saul had slain thousands of Philistines but David had slain tens of thousands! A good story is told about a young clergyman who was consulting one of the old wardens about the sermons he should preach and said that he had a sermon on temperance and gave the saloon what it deserved. The old warden said, "Well, that may be all right, but some of the largest contributors to our church are in the drink traffic." The young clergyman said that he had a sermon against dancing, card playing, theatres, and such like. The warden replied that that would not do as the majority of the members of the church would not be pleased. The clergyman then asked, "What am I to preach about?" "Oh, preach about the Philistines and give them the Devil!" We are apt to think that this awful war in Europe which is bringing misery on millions is caused by the ambition of Emperors and Kings and at the same time we are building ships of war as fast as we can and not having enough money to merit the cost of these war ships and our expenditure to Mexico, we are raising what they call a war tax. We speak of George Washington as the great fighter who beat the English. We speak of General Grant as the man who saved the country and we speak of Admiral Dewey as the sailor who taught the world how to fight at sea and our children are taught at school to revere Napoleon as the greatest man of his time.

But my text is about the war in Europe since the first of August. Belgium, the most densely populated country in Europe, is rich in agriculture, with a contented and prosperous peasantry and also as far advanced in all kinds of manufactures as we are, with cheap railways which traverse the country in all directions. Brussels only second to Paris in architecture, and with dozens of towns hives of industry—many of these towns boasted of having fine churches and splendid municipal buildings—in fine, one of the richest little countries in the world, is today a ruin and as our representative at Brussels tells us six million people are on the verge of starving. Surely a grand three months' work!

I notice that the British government has ordered fifty thousand stretchers to carry the wounded from the battlefield. To give an idea of the bigness of this order suppose that these stretchers were laid end on end all the way from Andover to Boston there would still be a few stretchers left to give to our good Officer Napier to carry the drunks from Lawrence to Judge Stone's office. The killed and wounded during these three months laid end on end would line the railroad from Andover to Boston and then back to Andover.

I am not sorry about the dead. It is those that are left to sorrow over their dead. From the royal cousin of King George to the poorest boy whose mother weeps over the list of dead when she sees the name of her Jamie. It is simply true what Sheridan said about war.

IAN McDUGALL.

Republican Rally

Upon the invitation of the Republican Town Committee the voters of Andover assembled in the town hall last Friday evening at the Republican rally of the town. The hall was filled and the gallery was overflowing with ladies who were interested.

The Andover Brass Band rendered a short musical program, during which time a reception was held. Hon. John N. Cole presided over the rally and introduced the speakers after making a short address of welcome.

The first to speak was Congressman John Jacob Rogers, candidate for reelection.

Mr. Rogers in a short but concise speech clearly stated the issues of the coming election in which he explained the war tax bill, and denounced the attitude of the Southern Democracy toward this section of the country in regard to the manufactured products. He presented facts and figures showing the extreme extravagance of the last epoch-making session of congress, and showed the real reason for the heavy war tax levy. He also gave an idea of how the workings of the Underwood tariff concerned this section of the country, and closed by stating that if his constituents deemed him worthy of reelection to Congress for a second term, he would strive to serve them faithfully and to the best of his ability.

At the close of his speech three rousing cheers for Mr. Rogers were given, led by Chairman Cole.

Hon. Samuel J. Elder of Winchester was the next speaker, he being a life-long friend of Samuel W. McCall, the Republican candidate for Governor. He endorsed Mr. McCall to the assemblage, pointing out the strong qualifications of the candidate for the office of Governor.

Through the courtesy of the committee, Mrs. Thomas Pelham Curtis, an ardent advocate of woman suffrage, was given a hearing as at the Democratic rally held previously in the week. She was very interesting and held her audience all through her short address in which she made an eloquent plea for the furtherance of votes for women.

The last speaker was Representative Henry E. Long of Topsfield, who spoke of the excellent service Mr. Bailey had rendered for his district, especially as he was badly handicapped by illness during part of the time that the House was in session.

The rally was brought to a close by a few remarks by Mr. Cole, who stated that if the voters were satisfied with the Democratic administration to vote again that way, but if not, to cast their ballots for a straight Republican ticket at the election. A selection by the band closed the meeting.

CASE XLIX. PROFOUND MIRACLE by the entire inhabitants of Woodville and Hopkinton, Mass.—"Raised from the dead," others exclaim.

Reduced to 95 pounds in weight; usual weight 145 pounds; present weight 150 pounds. A radical cure of cancer humor of stomach, "rapid decline," kidney and diseases of the nerves of a well-known gentleman of Woodville, after being given up by doctors and relatives.

READ CAREFULLY

Woodville, Mass.
Dr. Sweet—Dear Sir—Your wonderful rescue of myself from absolutely certain death now some five years since, and the absolutely perfect health I have enjoyed ever since have urged me almost daily to proffer you my testimony that when made fully public may be the means of saving some fellow mortals from an early death. It is more than ten years since I began to run down. At length my condition became so serious that I flew from one physician to another—gaining no help but receiving most discouraging opinions from all. I was a perfect wreck. Doctors and others said I could not live but a few weeks at most. The humor of my stomach troubled me so that for months I subsisted on thin gruel; even a particle of solid food entering my stomach would seem to set it on fire.

I had been reduced to the condition of a walking skeleton and despairing of all hope when I resolved to consult Dr. O. Preston Sweet. Instantly and for the first time, I was told just what ailed me. I felt I stood in the presence of the great natural healer. I returned home to consult with my father, filled with new and vital hope. I returned with my father, he flew behind in the doctor's healing powers new life for me. We both saw and believed. At once we purchased a twelve months' course of treatment and unwaveringly entered upon the course. What shall I say today? I am well and during the past five years have been able—thanks to Dr. Sweet—to build up a large agricultural implement business, wholly unaided, all of which, together with the happiness of health, I owe to Dr. Sweet. To the unwavering attention of Dr. Sweet's attendants and to the courtesy of his family, I wish to record my grateful thanks. I have no more to say with perfect freedom, as I cannot say too much for Dr. Sweet.

WM. E. TWITCHELL.

Board of Public Works

The report of the Superintendent from October 1 to November 1 is as follows:

Highway Department—During the month of October Harding street has been renewed from the railroad bridge to High street. Drains have been laid on both sides of the street. The total cost of the curbing, freight, and labor setting was $285.87 for 370 feet. A layer of No. 1 stone, bound with tarvia and covered with pea-stone, was laid from curb to curb. This work, including a little on High street, covered 878 square yards and cost $342.03, or 62¢ per yard.

Hidden road from the residence of Mr. Bassett to Main street, has been repaired with ashes, which were well wetted and rolled, using gravel as a binder. The Department has also done some work on Orchard street, taking out stone in the road, spreading gravel and rolling.

On Highland road a gutter has been built on the west side of the street, beginning at Salem street. In addition to this, about ten inches of the knoll by the Woods house has been removed. This knoll should be lowered more and a sidewalk put on the east side, but this would require the laying of a water-pipe in a ledge street, causing a great expense.

Men are now at work on the River road from the Hood farm to the residence of Chas. Newton.

On account of the dry weather more or less complaints have been made concerning stones in the road, and two men have been working practically the whole month to remedy this evil.

Department balance Nov. 1, 1914, $349.16.

Water Department—Pipe-laying is complete and there are now only three or four men at work in this department. Balance, Nov. 1, 1914: Maintenance, $1888.49; Construction, $823.32.

Sewer Department—Drains have been relaid in both sludge beds and the beds filled in to grade.

Department balance Nov. 1, 1914, $166.64.

Sidewalks—During October 1240 sq. yds. of resurfacing and 431 sq. yds. of new concrete walks have been carried through, costing $652.35, and leaving a balance of $300.24.

Park Department—The park brook is being straightened and walled in as far as the pond by contractor John McCarthy.

Department balance Nov. 1, 1914, $571.10.

Abbot Academy Notes

The school has enjoyed very much this week a visit from Miss Merrill, who came from Portland to be at the anniversary meeting on Monday of the November Club. On Tuesday afternoon a number of her Andover friends came to Draper Hall to meet her once again. She was, unfortunately, obliged to leave yesterday morning for a short visit to Woburn on her way home.

The service last Sunday evening was in charge of Prof. Ryder. Miss Ruth Huntington, one of the heads of the Hindman School in Kentucky, spent last night at the school and spoke very forcefully of the work that is being done at Hindman for the "mountain whites."

Another phase of work in the South will be given Sunday evening by Miss Annie Beecher Scoville, who will speak on Hampton's Work for Racial Peace. The subject of Miss Scoville's lecture on Monday evening will be "When Shakespeare Came to London." Miss Scoville is a very eloquent and interesting speaker, and this is said to be one of the very best in the series on Elizabethan England. The talk will be illustrated by slides from photographs of unusual and rare interest. Friends of the school are cordially invited to this lecture which will be given at a quarter past eight in Davis Hall.

Champion Butter Maker

Austin C. Huggins, dairyman at Arden Farm, has just received a gold medal from the National Dairywomen's Association which met in Chicago recently. By this honor he becomes the champion butter-maker of the United States. He also received a silver medal as being the champion of Massachusetts. Mr. Huggins has entered several contests, exhibiting his butter, and has received medals and ribbons wherever he has sent an exhibition. He has received many offers from a number of firms to work for them, but he is happily situated in his present position and does not care to change. His many friends are congratulating him over his well-deserved honors.

Baptist Rollcall and Supper

The annual rollcall service of the Baptist church was held last Wednesday evening in the church vestry. Over one hundred persons sat down to the abundant supper served by the ladies, and heartily enjoyed the good things. At the close, the audience was called together, the business transacted, and the roll of the 140 members called, many answering by Scripture verses in which the note of Thanksgiving prevailed. Absent ones sent letters of hope and praise. After the business, Mrs. Fred. G. Moore and Mrs. Mary S. Jackson sang a duet, "Come, let us worship before the Lord," and the thank-offering was taken, amounting to about $67. Rev. William J. Twort, pastor of the Free Baptist Church, Haverhill, was introduced and he spoke on the subject, "Christ the Head of the Church." He grouped his talk under the words, our head, authority, worship, preparation, and service, and spoke with power on each topic, using vivid illustrations.

This was a genuine Thanksgiving service, evidenced by beaming faces and words of pleasure, and congratulations for the successful year just passed.

Husking Bee

Last Monday evening the Christian Endeavor Society of the Baptist church held a husking-bee at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stone on High street. About thirty-eight of the young people were driven to the house in a hayrack. When they arrived there, after greeting the host and hostess everyone went into the barn and the husking commenced. This provided a great deal of amusement for all and a number of red ears were found. Afterwards games were played and the party went indoors where refreshments were served. Not all the pies proved to be apple pies as one young man found out to his sorrow. At a late hour the party was driven home in the hayrack after having spent a delightful evening.

Red Cross Work

The fourth week of the Red Cross relief work is closing most successfully. On Monday and Tuesday there will be exhibited in Miss Miller's store window samples of the articles which have been made.

It will be well to remind all those who have given so generously of their time and money, that this work is not ending but is to be taken up again after Christmas with renewed energy. In the meantime the Guild House will be open every Tuesday commencing on the 10th, for the same sort of work for local relief. A hearty response to this appeal is anticipated.

At this time Red Cross work can be returned and yarn will be given out for knitting.

DAVID I. WALSH

A wave of Republican sentiment swept Massachusetts and in many respects it was a landslide. The Democratic incumbents of every state office except that of governor were ousted; four congressional districts were taken from the Democrats; control of the governor's council was regained, and control of the legislature was retained and greatly increased. Governor Walsh was re-elected for a second term by a plurality of a little less than 10,000 over Samuel W. McCall, the Republican candidate.

GRAFTON D. CUSHING

Lieutenant Governor Barry was defeated by nearly 20,000 for re-election by his Republican opponent, Grafton D. Cushing. Secretary of State Donahue, Attorney General Boynton, State Treasurer Mansfield and State Auditor Pope were defeated by Republicans. The election of Cook as state auditor was one of the many surprises furnished by the election. He was openly opposed for the Republican nomination this year by the state committee and other G. O. P. organizations, yet won out by more than 10,000.

The Republicans retained control of every district where there was a Republican congressman, and in addition defeated Congressman DeWitt in the Eighth, Congressman Mitchell in the Thirteenth and Congressman Thatcher in the Sixteenth. Then, in the Eleventh, a Boston district represented for years by a Democrat, Senator Horgan, Democrat, was defeated by former Senator Tinkham, a Republican.

The Progressives lost the only two senate seats they had this year, and fourteen of the sixteen house seats. The senate of 1915 will have 33 Republicans and 7 Democrats, as against 31 Republicans, 17 Democrats and 1 Progressive this year. The house of 1915 will have 149 Republicans, 88 Democrats, 2 Progressives and 1 Socialist, as compared with 117 Republicans, 106 Democrats, 16 Progressives, 1 Socialist and 1 Independent in 1914.

House voters rejected by a decisive majority the Lomax proposition to abolish the present council of nine, elected at large, and substitute for it a district-elected council of seven.

Two towns—Attleboro and Revere—voted to become cities, which will bring the total number of Bay State cities up to thirty-five.

The Democrats will only have one member in the governor's council next year, as compared with a Democratic majority of the eight members this year.

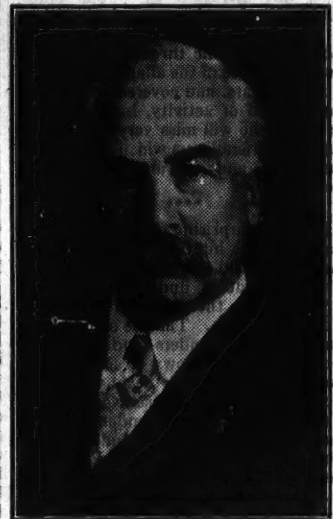

This will mean that the council will be in a position to hold up or reject any appointments made by the Democratic governor. Then, with the governor further hedged in by a Republican legislature, it is generally expected that the further success of measures which have been attacked as radical has been stopped for the present.

There is no doubt that the referendum providing for the abolition of party designations was overwhelmingly adopted.

FUSION FAILS IN VERMONT

Republicans Get Everything in Green Mountain State
Vermont returns show that Senator Dillingham was re-elected to the United States senate by a 25,696 vote over Charles A. Prouty, candidate on the Democratic, Progressive and Prohibition ticket. The contest between these men was the hottest political battle in many years, but the "Old Guard" rolled up a majority of 6961.

ALMOST A CLEAN SWEEP
Republicans Get About Everything in Rhode Island
The Republicans made almost a clean sweep in the elections in Rhode Island. R. L. Beekman, their candidate, is elected governor by a plurality of 9447. Beekman received 41,691 votes, Patrick M. Quinn, Dem., has 32,244 and Fred D. Thompson, Prog., 1184.

CHARLES W. GATES

Returns give Charles W. Gates, Rep., a vote of 33,103. Harland B. Rowe, Dem., received 24,471 and G. H. Aldrich, Prog., 6235. The remainder of the Republican state ticket went along with Gates and won a sweeping victory.

In the First congressional district F. L. Green, Rep., won an easy victory over D. E. O'Sullivan, Dem., by 18,293 to 6492.

In the Second district, P. H. Dale, Rep., went to the front with a vote of 10,028 against 3775 for John B. Reardon, Dem., and 3243 for Fraser Metzger, Prog.

One thing was demonstrated beyond dispute, and that is that a fusion ticket is a failure in Vermont. In every case where a fusion county ticket was adopted it was defeated by an overwhelming majority.

IN THE NUTMEG STATE

Democrats Are Snowed Under by Substantial Pluralities

Revised returns from the Republican sweep in Connecticut show Senator Brandegee's plurality over Governor Baldwin for the United States senatorship was 13,074.

Marcus H. Holcomb's plurality over Lieutenant Governor Tingler for governor was 17,715. Pluralities for other members of the state ticket range in the neighborhood of 15,000. The pluralities of the five Republican congressmen elected range from 1058 for P. D. Oakley in the First district to 4011 for R. F. Freeman in the Second district.

There are good working majorities in both branches of the state legislature.

GRANITE STATE VOTE

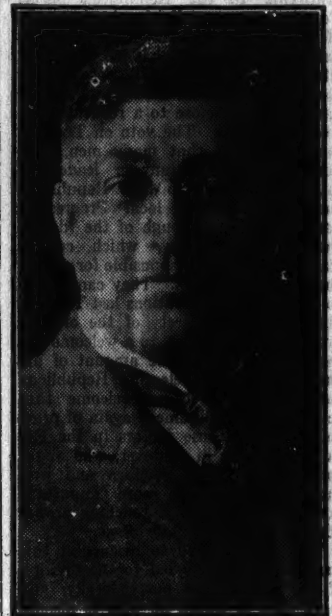

Spaulding and Gallinger Each Have a Comfortable Lead

Complete returns from New Hampshire give the following figures on governor and senator:

For governor—Roland H. Spaulding, Rep., 46,200; Albert W. Noone, Dem., 33,314; Spaulding's plurality, 12,886.

For senator—Jacob H. Gallinger, Rep., 41,677; Raymond B. Stevens, Dem., 34,044; Gallinger's plurality, 7533.

Edward Wason, Republican candidate for Stevens' seat in congress, defeated C. J. French, Democrat, Cyrus A. Sulloway, former congressman, was re-elected to congress in the First district over Eugene M. Read, Democrat, who defeated Sulloway in 1912.

ROLAND H. SPAULDING

Concord remains "wet" after a vigorous no-license campaign. Manchester also remains "wet." Franklin went for license after being dry for eight years.

The total Progressive vote, which two years ago was 14,401, shows a loss of nearly 80 percent.

ALMOST A CLEAN SWEEP
Republicans Get About Everything in Rhode Island
The Republicans made almost a clean sweep in the elections in Rhode Island. R. L. Beekman, their candidate, is elected governor by a plurality of 9447. Beekman received 41,691 votes, Patrick M. Quinn, Dem., has 32,244 and Fred D. Thompson, Prog., 1184.

R. L. BEECKMAN

Congressmen O'Shaunessy, Dem., and Kennedy, Rep., were re-elected. Congressman Gerry, Dem., was defeated for re-election by W. B. Stiness, Rep., who obtained a plurality of 787.

Emery J. Sansouci, Rep., was elected lieutenant governor by a plurality of 10,135. Secretary of State Parker, Attorney General Rice and General Treasurer Reed, all Republicans, were re-elected, each having a plurality of more than 15,000.

Every city in the state and all but six of the towns voted for liquor license.

GENERAL NEWS EVENTS

The largest shipment of gold that ever came to Boston, comprising $15,000,000 in United States coin, arrived direct from the federal mint at Denver, where it was coined.

Three dead and one probably fatally injured was the toll of automobile accidents in and around New York for one day.

Mount Vesuvius is again in eruption and the inhabitants in its vicinity have become greatly alarmed. On Nov. 5, 1914, 35 was killed in the elevator in a Boston building where an ape was employed by a dressmaker.

HOW CONGRESS IS AFFECTED

Democratic Majority in House Reduced to Twenty-Three

GAINS FOUR IN THE SENATE

Lower Branch Has 226 Democrats, 192 Republicans, 10 Progressives and a Lone Socialist—Democratic Leaders Think They Must Now Fight Republicans Alone

Latest returns from Tuesday's election indicate that the Democratic party in the house of representatives for the Sixty-fourth congress will be reduced to twenty-three. The probable Democratic majority in the senate will be fourteen.

Democrats have elected 226 members, Republicans 192, Progressives 10 and Socialists 1. Of the six missing districts it is estimated that the Republicans and Democrats may elect three each.

Heaviest Republican gains in the almost overwhelming reduction of the Democratic majority were thirteen in Illinois, twelve in New York, ten in Pennsylvania and nine in Ohio. Progressive representation in the house was cut from nineteen to nine or ten. This resulted from the general collapse of the Progressive organization throughout the country, except in California.

Contests which were so close that they have not been determined are claimed by the Progressives in one district in California; by the Progressives in two districts in Colorado and one in New Jersey, and by the Republicans in two districts in Kansas and one in North Carolina.

On the basis of the latest returns, the senate of the Sixty-fourth congress will remain in Democratic control by an increased majority of four. Although there is uncertainty regarding the election in Utah and Nevada, the indications are that the new senate will consist of fifty-five Democrats, forty Republicans and one Progressive.

Senator Smoot of Utah will not admit defeat, although the latest returns show that James M. Moyle, Dem. Prog., is leading in the contest. Senator Newlands of Nevada also seems in danger of losing his seat to Samuel Platt, Dem.

In states where the fight was hottest victory was practically assured for Roger C. Sullivan, Dem., in Illinois; Charles S. Thomas, Dem., in Colorado; James D. Phelan, Dem., in Indiana; Charles Curtis, Rep., Kansas; Warren G. Harding, Rep., Ohio; and Charles H. Burke, Rep., South Dakota.

The Progressive vote dropped in practically every state from its strength of two years ago. This is pointed out as being shown in a number of states by the election of former Republican members of congress who were defeated previously because of the large Progressive vote. Such men include Cannon and McKinley in Illinois, Longworth in Ohio and Hill in Connecticut.

According to the returns, the Progressives showed most strength in Kansas and California. In Pennsylvania and Illinois the vote did not come up to predictions.

There is a general sentiment among Democratic leaders, who have previously counted on the Progressive vote, to pay little attention to it in the future and to carry on an out-and-out fight with the Republicans.

Heavy falling off of all the Progressive vote in many states, the return to congress of former Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, decisive Republican gains in New York and Illinois in the house membership and the overwhelming defeat of Representative Palmer by Senator Penrose in Pennsylvania were features of the day's returns. Democratic leaders, however, were pleased by a triumph in Massachusetts, where Samuel W. McCall was defeated for the governorship by Governor Walsh.

Democratic senators in the south were re-elected without difficulty, new senators from southern states chosen being Representative Underwood of Alabama and Representative Hardwick of Georgia.

Sweeping Republican gains throughout the country, which reached a climax in New York state by the overwhelming victory of Charles S. Whitman for governor and James W. Wadsworth to succeed Elihu Root in the United States senate, are indicated in the returns of the general elections.

Whitman was elected governor of New York by 135,000 plurality over Martin H. Glynn; Wadsworth by 105,000 over James W. Gerard.

It was a landslide. The legislature was carried overwhelmingly by the Republicans, and the whole Republican state ticket is elected. Suizer, Independent, beat Davenport, Progressive, about two to one.

Davenport, in support of whose candidacy ex-President Roosevelt devoted most of the campaign, was left far in the rear, his vote being exceeded by that of William Suizer, who was deposed as governor last year.

In Tennessee, also, a change of party control occurred. Returns point to the defeat of Governor Hooper, the Republican incumbent, by Thomas C. Rye, Democrat.

Wedding

TOWNE—BAKER

The wedding of Edwin Towne, formerly of this town, to Miss Hazel O. Baker of Boston, Mass., was celebrated on August 13, at Rio de Janeiro, S. A., at which place Mr. Towne is situated. The bride started from New York on July 25, reaching her port on the first named date, the boat being held up at two ports along the way. Arrayed in her wedding dress she was met at the dock by the groom and they went at once to the Methodist church of Rio, where they were married by Rev. Mr. Taylor, head of the American Bible Society of that city.

Mr. Towne is a Puncheon graduate and is well remembered by many friends in town who wish him every success in his life in South America.

POLITICS IN REVIEW

The past week has been full of politics. Beginning with the rally last Friday night, and not yet closed so far as the aftermath of the actual election of Tuesday is concerned, it has been one continued discussion of political matters. This discussion has not been confined to any community, but from the returns, now pretty complete, it is evident that the arousing which we have seen in Andover, has taken place throughout the entire country.

The Local Result

The local result is tremendously gratifying to the Republican party. For three years a division in the ranks of those men in Andover, who are natural Republicans, has led to such a situation as to make it possible for Democratic success and that success has come very close to a realization in two campaigns. The vote on Tuesday makes it clear that many men, who honestly followed unwise leadership into an attempt to bolt Republican candidates as the local Progressive party, have had enough of the "dog in the manger" policy, which certain leaders have been responsible for during the past three years. They came back to their natural affiliations last Tuesday almost in the entirety of the original group, and they came to a welcome not measured alone by the amount of aid they could be in electing Republican candidates, but to a welcome that rejoices in the alignment again of practically all of those factors in the Republican party in Andover, who ought to forget personal feelings and prejudices, when the more important questions are involved touching proper administration of public office.

There is no need to discuss at this time reasons which led to the division of the Republican party locally, any more than it would be wise to discuss the entire movement which has made trouble for the Republican party and Republican policies in the past two years. It is enough that banded together once again, they are bound to be a force within Republican ranks, capable of much greater good in active politics than they could ever expect to be as a separate organization.

It is probable that some Progressives in Andover, as in other sections, will still persist in their passion for trouble making, but the measure of this leadership has been taken by a great big band of honestly intentioned men, who are not likely to be fooled again.

The actual result itself in Andover, in which one of the largest total votes ever brought to the polls was cast, is again gratifying to Republicans, and the Republican Town Committee deserves high praise for the very efficient manner in which they worked, both in planning probably the largest rally held in town for twenty years, and in bringing out a vote of such proportions. It was a fitting close to the work of Chairman Hardy, who insisted that this was to be his last year as Chairman of the Republican Town Committee.

In the State

The result in the State fell short by just one item in the failure to elect Mr. McCall for the governorship. Many people had overlooked the tremendous advantage held by a candidate for governor running for a second term, and it is much more likely that the increased vote for Governor Walsh is practically all due to that American spirit which says so readily and accepts accordingly "give a man another chance", than it is likely that his vote came in any considerable numbers from the deserting Progressives. The men chosen on the Republican ticket are sure to give the State, efficient administration, and with a council almost unanimously Republican, and a Republican Lieutenant Governor, there is bound to be struck a much better balance for State government next year than we have had during the past ten months.

The most gratifying results in connection with the election in Massachusetts, is the increased number of Republican congressmen bearing back to Washington the protest of Massachusetts against Tariff legislation, fitted neither to the demands of American industries nor the protection of American labor. Massachusetts sends a peculiarly strong delegation to assert this position in the coming Congress.

Throughout the Nation

The result Nationally follows closely to the same satisfactory lines noted in connection with the local and State results. The writer takes a peculiar pleasure in the re-election of Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire, as it was his pleasure to have a part in the campaign, by invitation, and to see the tremendous movements working to encompass his defeat. It is not too much to assert in the light of the long and brilliant record of the New Hampshire senior senator, that probably no one defeat would have done more injury to New England interests than would have the defeat of Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire, and while he is advanced in years, he still retains a vigor which promises for him a full term of great usefulness as a New England member of the upper branch of the National Congress.

The "comeback" of Speaker Cannon is a splendid evidence of returning Conservatism, where the great purpose of a man is re-discovered after it has been overwhelmed by the misrepresentation and abuse of a demagogic era. The "People's rule" seems likely to be more powerful than ever, but along constructive rather than destructive lines.

Editorial Cinders

Andover isn't looked upon very often as a leading agricultural town, but prizes come, nevertheless, pretty frequently to all kinds of activity in agriculture centered in Andover, from the Grange down to individual exhibitors. The latest high honor comes to the Arden Farm through the award made at the recent National Dairymen's Association meeting in Chicago, of the highest prize for butter exhibited. The prize took the form of a gold medal, the highest in the National exhibit, and a silver medal, for the highest score from Massachusetts. Every statement in the score card carried favorable comment, and the record of 96 per cent was an extremely gratifying one, taking into account the fact that scoring in the West is much more rigid than in any other part of the country. Austin C. Huggins is the expert butter-maker at Arden farm and he has become pretty accustomed to taking prizes, of which a large number now stand to the credit of his skill as a butter-maker, and of Arden farm as a producer of high-grade milk and cream. Mr. Wood is so used to high rank in his experience as one of the country's big business men that one more high mark may not be of very great moment, but we are inclined to think that few achievements in his many interests could please him more than for his home place to have one of its important activities score the highest mark among similar exhibits from all over the country.

That was a rare and ripe old age chronicled in the years of Mr. George H. Torr, whose life came to a close on Wednesday night. With one exception, Mr. Torr was the oldest man in Andover, and it would have taken only a few months more to have rounded out the span of ninety years of useful service to his fellow men. Those associated with him in a business way, admired and respected him; those who got closer learned to love him. He was the quiet type, not attracted by public office, but giving of service as a private citizen in the very best possible manner to the good of the public through private service. His place in the affairs of the town of recent years, had covered only a very narrow field of activity, but there will be many who will miss very keenly, the cheer and friendliness which marked his passing in and out among his fellow men.

It isn't surprising that the Democratic party is hunting for a scapegoat, and those who are informed are not surprised that it finds the scapegoat very readily in the person of the former Mayor of Boston. That he should have made so many blunders (and practically the entire State knows of some of the foolish remarks which he has made in connection with the present campaign), is almost impossible to understand unless such blunders were made deliberately as is now charged. Mr. Fitzgerald has a good many things to explain, and it will require a lot of explanation before the members of his own party will believe that he has not been a distinct injury to Democratic hopes during the present campaign, and he will have many more things to explain before the voters at large will give him the opportunity to realize his ambition to become a United States Senator from Massachusetts.

Andover has reason to be very much pleased that one of her boys, educated in the public schools and at Phillips Academy, has been made Governor of New Hampshire. Roland H. Spaulding will be remembered with very great pleasure by the boys of twenty or thirty years ago, who would never have picked him as one to get into politics, but who will recall a personality guaranteeing that whatever he touched would result in success. He has had a very strenuous campaign in New Hampshire, but his election by a rousing big Republican majority means a State administration of the very highest standard. Congratulations to Mr. Spaulding and to New Hampshire.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

November Club Observes Event at Meeting Held Monday Afternoon—Reminiscences of Early Days.

The November Club held the first meeting of the club year on Monday, November 2nd, when the twenty-fifth anniversary was celebrated. The club calendar, with its silver lettering, had announced that a birthday party was to be given to the members and all had looked forward to this silver anniversary. To the painstaking care of the committee was due the fact that the highest anticipations of all were more than realized, the plans for a cordial, friendly home gathering being carried out to the smallest detail.

The familiar room was cheery with its silver laden tea table and a wealth of yellow chrysanthemums upon table and stage evinced the ever thoughtful generosity of a former president.

Mrs. Frank H. Paige then played a "Love Song" by Stojowski with much feeling and grace.

Miss Park spoke of the department work and especially of the Literature department. Feeling tribute was paid to the memory of Miss Alice Buck who was for so many years leader of the department.

The dramatic efforts of the department were enjoyed in the recounting as they ever have been when the members have appeared before the club in various roles.

Mrs. Palmer was enthusiastically welcomed, and, after a well deserved tribute to Miss Park, whose modesty prevented a full account of Dr. Johnson's appearance before the November club, read

A short reception gave an opportunity for a friendly exchange of cordial greeting after which the President, Miss Kelsey, was ushered upon the stage, followed by the Secretary and a few of the charter members who were to speak of the early work of the club.

The club members gave a hearty greeting to the new President and a short business meeting followed.

The President then gave a few words of welcome and presented Mrs. Isabel Chapin Gould who sang with much charm two songs by Schumann.

Mrs. Tyer then told of the early days of the club with allusions to the grandmotherly feeling of the charter members toward present day members and club affairs.

The humorous recital of early club difficulties, met and overcome, was greatly appreciated. Special tribute was paid to Miss Elizabeth Handy to whose efforts the club owes its start and to Miss McKen who generously encouraged the undertaking by providing a meeting place in Abbot Hall during the first year. The first full meeting of the club, as a club, was held there.

Mrs. McCurdy then took up the story, telling of that first club meeting and read enlightening extracts from many early club reports.

The dedication of the Club house was recounted and all listened with interest to the long list of gifts to the house and its furnishings. The account of efforts of the club to provide means for gifts to itself was especially entertaining.

The Boys' club, started and supported by the club in its early days, bided better than it knew, in that it proved to be the forerunner of the present magnificent work of the Andover Guild.

OBITUARY

George Henry Torr

One of Andover's most highly esteemed citizens passed away on Wednesday when death came to George H. Torr of Central street. Mr. Torr had been in ill health for some time due to natural causes incident to his many years.

George Henry Torr was born in Rochester, N. H., September 9, 1825, the son of Jonathan H. and Sarah McDuffee Torr. His early life was spent in Rochester, in education at the town schools and in learning habits of industry in the village grocery store, conducted by his father. At the age of sixteen he entered Phillips Exeter Academy, but did not finish there, owing to business reverses which came to his father. Leaving Exeter he took his first position with the Cocheco Co. in Dover, and began his work in what was destined to be a long career as a trusted clerk and official, covering over fifty years with only two concerns. His work at Dover was interrupted by a short time of employment with Brewster & Co., Dry Goods dealers of Boston.

Closing over ten years of active work at the Cocheco Co. in Dover in 1858, he came to Andover in that year as bookkeeper for the firm of Smith, Dove & Co. Mr. Torr's rise in the Andover concern was steady and consistent. Upon the incorporation of the company in 1864 he was made clerk; in 1874 he became director, and in 1877 he was elected treasurer, serving as clerk and treasurer until 1893. In 1893 he became president, resigning that position in 1906, but holding his place as a director until 1912. Fidelity of the highest type marked Mr. Torr's long career as an Andover business man.

Mr. Torr was married in 1865 to Lucretia Warren Richardson, who died in 1906. Since the death of Mrs. Torr, two of her nieces have resided with Mr. Torr making his last years comfortable by their love and interest in his welfare. Funeral services are to be held Saturday at 3 o'clock p.m., at the late home on Phillips street, with Rev. F. A. Wilson officiating. Interment will be in the South church cemetery.

Births

Tuesday Club "At Home"

Those who were fortunate enough to receive invitations to the "At Home" given by the Tuesday Club at the home of Mrs. John N. Cole, Highland road, last Tuesday, enjoyed a most delightful afternoon. The house was most artistically decorated with autumn foliage, here and there brilliant touches of color being made by the red barberries and snowballs which were used profusely.

The guests were received by Mrs. Cole, Miss Madeleine Haves, and Mrs. Norman B. Reed. Dainty refreshments consisting of sandwiches, tea, cake and punch were served in the dining room, after which a general social afternoon was happily spent.

Andover Club

The Andover Club held its first meeting for the winter in the Club rooms on Saturday evening. A large attendance of members was present and whist was enjoyed, eight tables being used. The first prize of a silk umbrella was awarded to Douglas Donald and a smoking set, second prize, went to Charles Flanders. Refreshments were served. A series of tournaments in pool, billiards and whist are being arranged and it is expected that the interest in the final results of these tournaments will be keen.

BIG REPUBLICAN VOTE

Annual State Election Results in Defeat of Democrats—
Representative Bailey Re-elected—Cong. Rogers gets Flattering Vote.

Andover went Republican with a good old time majority for the candidates in the election Tuesday, a large vote almost equalling the record-breaker of two years ago being polled and a total of 1250 votes were cast. Two years ago the number was 1261.

The local contest for representative was one of particular interest as Wm. J. Cronin, the Democratic nominee, was out for the first time. He was defeated by a large majority by Representative Bailey and Mr. Bostwell, the candidate for the Progressive party, received but eighty votes. Mr. Rogers for Congressman was well supported here in town having a majority of 528 votes over his Democratic opponent, J. Joseph O'Connor, and received the biggest vote ever given a Republican candidate in Andover. Edgar M. Earley ran behind Candidate Cronin, who was high man for his party in town, and he was overwhelmed by the vote of Moody Kimball, the Republican nominee for County Commissioner in the total vote.

The polls opened at six o'clock in the morning and the voting was brisk during the entire day. By two o'clock 952 persons had cast their ballots as compared with 850 last year. The polls were kept open until five o'clock and the returns were known at six. The three questions, regarding working hours for laborers and vacations for those employed by cities and towns, and for the abolition of party enrollment at primary elections, were accepted in all three cases, although the first amendment relative to vacations only won out by 15 votes.

The vote of the town is given in detail below:

HOLD ANNUAL MEETINGS

Society Monday Evening.

Andover Historical Society

The annual meeting of the Andover Historical Society was held Saturday evening in the Lower Town hall. The officers of last year were re-elected and reports of committees received, after which the President, Dr. Abbott, presented Rev. E. Victor Bigelow who gave an interesting informal talk on the old town of Cohasset and the circumstances which led him to write its history. No definite action has been taken by the Society towards the purchase of a home, but the interest of all lovers of Andover is solicited; and when the call comes, later in the year, it is hoped that many will respond liberally, so that the thousand dollars already pledged by one of our members, may grow till the fund be sufficiently large to accomplish its work. All Andover should be interested in this society. Read this list of members and if your name is not there, ask to have it added. One of your dollars could not be put to better use.

Ghastly Find

The body of the woman, who was found in a badly decomposed condition in Baker's meadow, behind a stone wall about 60 feet from the roadside, in West Parish, Sunday afternoon, according to the Andover police, has been positively identified as that of Mrs. Katomir Tamoris of 339 Common street. Lawrence, who has been missing from her home since October 10. Although the features of the woman were unrecognizable, a wedding ring which was on her finger, a mantilla, such as is worn over the head by Syrian women, a shoe which had a patch on one side, the coat of a grey mixture, and gold cross on a ribbon around her neck, were all recognized as the property of Mrs. Tamoris, by a brother, Mansur Khoury, and a step brother, Alis Bahr.

Dr. Dow, after viewing the body, and performing an autopsy Monday morning, declared that the woman evidently met with foul play. It was found that her skull was badly fractured, back of the right ear, about two inches in length and one inch wide, as if done by a blow from a hatchet or sharp stone.

Taking all things into consideration the Andover police believe that it was a case of murder and that robbery was the motive, inasmuch as the suit case in which the woman carried her articles for sale, was missing, and no money was found in her clothing.

Chief Smith stated that a rigid investigation was made in West Parish to ascertain whether the woman had been seen around there at any time, but met with little success.

Mrs. Tamoris is a widow and has five children, the oldest about 17 years old and the youngest about four years. The funeral was held on Tuesday morning, burial taking place in Immaculate Conception cemetery, Lawrence.

Automobile Smashed

Last Monday forenoon an automobile accident occurred in North Andover in which the occupants, Jesse West and Miss Pearl Brown of this town, had narrow escapes from serious injury and possibly death. The machine was an Overland driving car, recently purchased and Mr. West, after delivering goods in Ballardvale, proceeded to North Andover. At the corner of Andover and Osgood streets, known as the haystack corner, the machine skidded, crashed into a tree and threw both occupants out. The car was reduced to a heap of junk.

Dr. Fred S. Smith attended the victims and ordered their removal to the Lawrence General hospital in the ambulance. Miss Brown received a severe scalp wound and her right hand was badly lacerated. Mr. West was severely shaken up and bruised, and received a severe nervous shock but was able to leave the hospital in the afternoon.

Public School Notes

At a meeting of the school committee held on Tuesday evening much business of importance was transacted. The teachers' committee reported the appointment of Miss Sara G. Cummings of Newfields, N. H., a teacher in the Indian Ridge school in place of Miss Moriarty, resigned, and the appointment of Miss Gertrude Farrington of Lawrence as a substitute for Miss Riley.

The wells at the Bailey and North schools have been condemned by the State Board of Health, and the superintendent was authorized to make arrangements for a temporary supply of spring water, and also to confer with the selectmen concerning a permanent supply by the town, as the water system does not at present extend to these districts.

A request by the newly-organized class in civics for the use of the Pynchard school two afternoons a month was unanimously refused.

The committee was unable to grant the request of the Mothers' Club in regard to electric lights in the Bradlee school, on account of lack of funds.

On account of the recent fire in the Bailey school, caused by the overheating of the wooden air-box, a metal one has been installed in the Osgood school to prevent the possibility of a fire there.

Charles Warden, proprietor of the Colonial theatre, the local moving picture house, appeared before the committee and requested the appointment of a committee from the school board and Phillips Academy to censor all films presented at the theatre. Films of an educational value will be exhibited and all special films recommended by the censoring body. The committee will consist of two members of the school committee and one from the faculty of the Academy.

The finance and advisory committee reported bills approved for payment as follows:
Schools, $4022.58; balance, $6775.84.
School houses, $563.86; balance, $323.32.
Books and supplies, $171.51; balance, $202.80.
Total bills, $4757.95; total balance, $7301.96.

WILBUR

William Hodge has entered upon the third month of the big success of "The Road to Happiness" at the Wilbur Theatre, Boston. It is no wonder that this unique impersonator of distinctively American types should have scored so pronounced a hit again in this new role of young Jim Whitman, for no one else on the stage today can equal him in this line of characterization. Speaking of "The Road to Happiness" and this latest role of Whitman, Mr. Hodge himself declares that the foremost reason why he decided to produce the drama, when he first read it, was the essential Americanism of this struggling village youth. It is this combination of humor and wisdom that makes Mr. Hodge's role of Whitman so notably enjoyable and that audiences at the Wilbur theatre go away refreshed with mirth and kindly fun, as well as inspired by the cheerful philosophy of the play itself.

PLYMOUTH

The most important of the theatrical announcements made to date, concerns the first Boston appearance of the celebrated English actor-manager, Cyril Maude and his all-English company from his London Playhouse, at the Plymouth theatre, Boston, starting Monday evening, November 9th.

Mr. Maude will present here the same play, "Grumpy," which created such a furor in New York. "Grumpy" is described as a new kind of detective play, offering Mr. Maude a character role and showing his entire company to advantage.

Mr. Maude and his company will come from London to Boston, bringing everything used on the stage in this production. The engagement here is limited, and this being the case, coupled with the fact that it will be his first appearance in this city, there is sure to be a big demand for seats. The prices will not be advanced for this engagement, but will remain the regular

HUB-MARK RUBBERS

SCHOOL DAYS NEVER END

Thousands of people are yearly learning to know the difference between honest goods and the other kind. Long ago in life's school many learned the true economical value of Hub-Mark Rubbers and they have never forgotten the lesson. That's why the business man, the professional man, the policeman, the motorman and the postman say "Hub-Mark" to the storeman when they buy rubbers.

Mothers with a true sense of economy and a sense of health protection insist on Hub-Mark rubbers for their boys and girls. They cost no more than other standard, first quality rubbers.

Hub-Mark rubber footwear is made by a factory which is the largest and best equipped in the world, and one which has been satisfying the public foot needs for sixty years.

Order by name, say "Hub-Mark." It's a wise foot note to your shopping list.

These rubbers are manufactured by the Boston Rubber Shoe Company, Malden, Mass.

SOCCER

Andover 4, Bunting 2.

Andover defeated Bunting at Lowell in the first round of the State Cup this last Saturday. Andover had the game in their own hands throughout and although Bunting scored first the result was never in doubt. The United were without the services of the veteran Jackson, but Downs performed so well in the place that the back division was as strong as ever. After Andover assumed the lead, the players indulged in many antics and did not take things seriously until Doherty had been sent from the field, shortly after the second half opened.

Page set the ball in motion against a strong wind which the Lowell team quickly took advantage of. Munroe had to have from Smith, in doing so, Jack, playing his first game this season, kicked the ball against Glegg who had hard luck in striking the bar with the goal at his mercy. Joe Black, playing at center half, was early in the line light, a splendid header of his striking the bar after a corner kick. Several fouls against Andover resulted in one being taken advantage of when, from the free kick, Kelley drove in a hard shot which Munroe failed to hold. Bunting did not hold their head long for after a good run by Skea whose shot was too hot for Birtwhistle, Page stepped in and evened matters. Andover came again and again during a scrimmage Skea again shot, the ball struck Deyermund and landed in the net. The half ended, Andover 2, Bunting 1.

McDermitt no sooner kicked off than Page got possession and traveled right down the field a corner resulted from which Doherty headed over. Deyermund had a close shave with a good shot and it was from another try by the same player that Page got the third goal netting the ball before the custodian could clear.

Andover braced and Deyermund, who had been showing some of his old time form, was rewarded by scoring the fourth goal. Darkness was coming down fast when Mitchell and Glegg broke away and carried the ball to the Andover end where with a low cross shot Mitchell beat Munroe this proving the last goal of the match.

Final: Andover 4, Bunting 2.
Andover: Munroe; Rae and Downs; Coleman, Black and Rennie; Deyermund, Doherty, Page, Doig, and Skea.
Bunting: Birtwhistle; England and Merritt; Costello, Kelly and Malloy; Smith, Thompson, McDermitt, Mitchell and Glegg.

Light Blues 4, Thistles 3.

In the first round of the state cup competition Manchester Light Blues won their first game of the season at expense of the Andover Thistles on the Andover cricket field Saturday afternoon. The local juniors were exceedingly unfortunate to lose and in the first half they had the most of the play and were worth more than the one goal which Felix Lynch scored.

As usual the Blues were without their full team and started the game with 8 men and the first half was well along before the last player came. Millen started the game for the Blues but the Thistles forwards immediately attacked Porter sending behind. The Blues reinforced by Swanton and Swindells, visited Andover's goal, Wallace on the outside being dangerous. The pressure was relieved but Wallace broke away and with a splendid curving shot scored the first goal of the game. The Thistles were not long in equalizing, Felix Lynch beating Swindells with a splendid drive from ten yards out. Even play followed for a time but eventually Campbell, the Blues' left winger, scored after a dashing run down the field, beating Macconnachie with a swift shot into the net. The first half ended, Blues 2, Thistles 1.

The second half was evenly contested, each side scoring 2 goals. J. Brown netting twice for the Blues and Porter and F. Nicoll for the Thistles, the latter from a penalty. He missed a second penalty and a chance to tie the score, the Blues winning by 6 goals to 3.

The line-up:
Light Blues: Swindells; Swanton and Craig; Gifford, W. Anderson, and Rogers; Campbell, Anderson, Millen, J. Brown and Wallace.

Thistles: Macconnachie; Anderson and Eaton; J. Lynch, Gorrie, Nicoll; Killackey, Carnathan, F. Lynch, Caldwell and Porter.

Score: Light Blues 4; Andover Thistles 3. Goals: Brown 2, Wallace, Campbell; F. Lynch, Porter, F. Nicoll (penalty). Missed penalty: F. Nicoll. Referee: Wm. Settle, Methuen. Linesmen: A. Robb, W. Gorman. Time: 45 min. halves.

A special meeting of the Andover United football club, held for the purpose of renewing enthusiasm in the club's affairs, brought out a large number of the members Monday evening. The secretary was sponsor for the movement and his pointed remarks, coupled with the appeal of the president, have sent the committees back to their work determined to finish the season with a prosperous club and a championship team.

The use of the Cricket field was granted to the South Lawrence club for its game with the Olympics this week and these teams will be seen there tomorrow.

The following team will line-up for Andover against Clon McPherson at Glen Forest tomorrow: J. Deyermund; Rae and Downs; Coleman, Black and Rennie; W. Deyermund, Neil, Page, Doig and Skea.

MANY HALLOWE'EN PARTIES

Ghosts and Spooks Hold Sway—Young People Have Enjoyable Gatherings in Observance of All Hallow's Day.

Witches, ghosts and spooks were out in full force on Saturday night and many homes in Andover were visited by these wraiths. Doors banged, the wind whistled in unexpected corners, ghosts came and vanished again, knockings were heard both on doors and windows, and black cats shrieked and howled in true witch fashion.

Special observances were held in many places to keep the temper of these midnight visitors down, and the fate of many a youth and maiden was foretold before the morning light dispersed the spooks to their own abodes and laid the ghosts for another year.

Miss Eva Howell entertained the members of the Free Church C. E. society at her home on Summer street. The house was appropriately decorated, over the front door being an "owl" with glaring eyes and inside the porch, two goblins which grinned a welcome to those who came.

A ghost with glaring eyes muttered a greeting and directed the girls past a terrifying witch at the foot of the stairs to a reception room upstairs to lay aside the necessary encumbrances of a cool night. When all were seated in a mystic circle on the sitting-room floor, a tap was heard on the window pane and a horrible grinning face, draped in white, looked in upon the company. The ghost entered the room and glided to a seat on the floor where it told a blood-curdling tale of dungeons and dead things. Of course all were completely under the spell and a sigh of relief was felt when this ghastly visitor departed. Hallowe'en games were played and refreshments served after which Mrs. E. C. Edmonds, attired as a witch, told the fortunes of the company. Other games finished a delightful evening.

The student body of Punchard school held their annual Hallowe'en and costume party in Punchard hall on Friday evening, the affair proving a distinct success.

All the students were regaled in various costumes, many of them being of excellent merit. Shortly after 8 o'clock the grand march was formed in the lower hall and proceeded to the upper hall, where the unmasking ceremony took place.

Dancing, Hallowe'en games and sports were enjoyed, after which light refreshments were served.

The home of Guy W. Gilbert was the scene of a pretty Hallowe'en party when their daughters, Louise and Muriel, entertained several young friends. The house was decorated with lanterns and Hallowe'en favors and presented a charming appearance. The party was held from 6 to 8 and during that time many Hallowe'en games were played and enjoyed by the children, bobbing for apples proving the most laughable. Several of the guests were dressed in costumes suitable to the occasion, which produced much merriment. Miss Dorothy Lowell made a most spookish ghost, Miss Gladys Dean came arrayed in a Dutch girl's costume and she carried a little Dutch doll similarly dressed, James Brewster made a mischievous elf and Margaret Moore, dressed as a wolf, growled and rolled her eyes when occasion offered. The hostesses were dressed as witches and were adorable in their Hallowe'en costumes.

Refreshments were served, the cakes and ices being molded in the form of cats and witches and these pleased the company very much. Those present were Gladys Dean, Dorothy Lovell, Gertrude Lombard, Margaret Moore, Isabel Bodwell, Dan Allen, Gilbert Stone, James Brewster and Foster Wright.

Elizabeth and Harold Read entertained several of their small friends last Saturday evening, giving them a treat of witches and goblins at their home on Locke street. Here, also, the spooks had left evidence of their coming, black cats and lanterns with magic fire in them making of the rooms weird and ghostlike places. Hallowe'en games were played by the children and even the refreshments, the only things that were of a substantial character, vanished as if by magic. The guests present were Nathalie Bartlett, Violet Cole, Ruth Cates, Robert Berry, Edward Carlton, Tyler Carlton, and Judson Stone.

Miss Lizzie Cole gave her Sunday school class a Hallowe'en party Saturday afternoon at her home on Elm street. Games suitable to the occasion were played and refreshments served. The following were present: Misses Ruth Newman, Ethel Hill, Marion Newcomb, Mary Frazee, Bertha Baker, Vera Downes, Dorothy White, and Irene Cole.

Miss Cole was assisted by Miss Mildred White.

Irene Arnold of Highland road entertained sixteen of her young lady friends at an Hallowe'en party Saturday evening. The house was prettily decorated with autumn foliage and other decorations suitable to All Hallowe'en.

During the evening many games were played, some of which caused much mirth and dancing and music helped to pass an enjoyable evening.

Some of the costumes worn were unique and dainty.

A collation was served and on entering the dining room each guest found a bunch of grapes at her place in which was concealed her fortune which had to be read aloud. Pretty favors were given each of those who attended.

Last Saturday evening the Workmen's Hall was the scene of a most unusual celebration of Hallowe'en. About fifty-four young people from Andover, Lawrence and Lowell, dressed in costumes dating from the fifteenth century to the present time, enjoyed themselves thoroughly from eight until eleven-thirty. Bassanio danced the intricate steps of the one-step with a charming Zuzu Ginger Snap maid, a Court Jester and another maiden who looked as if she had just dropped from the sky in her black robes dotted with silver stars, whirled about in the maxixe, and a policeman danced the old-fashioned, but always popular, waltz, with a lady who had undoubtedly been stolen away from "Little Women" to assist in the merry-making. A celebrated chef was there, a jolly little Dutch girl, several farmers, a tall Scotchman, three very dangerous-looking Turks, and even two little girls from the sea shore enjoyed the excellent playing of the Adelphe orchestra. Every-one came in costume, and combined in making the affair one of the prettiest held in Andover for many years.

The party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald D'Arcy, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Bailey, Miss Helen Bailey, and G. Roderick Cannon. The evening was given up almost entirely to dancing, and many interesting and novel ways of choosing partners were introduced. Refreshments consisted of sandwiches, coffee, doughnuts, and cheese, and a small keg of delicious sweet cider took the place of the customary punch bowl.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blunt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Chester D. Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Leek, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Salisbury, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald D'Arcy, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Bailey, Misses Maidie and Eva Erving, Lucy and Elizabeth Abbott, Beatrice and Hilda Temple, Anne Coleman, Helen Bailey, and Ruth Lindsay, Messrs. Lincoln Prescott, John Erving, Roderick Cannon, Harvey McCrone, Carl Lindsay, Howard Marjerson, and Harold Houston.

Miscellaneous Showers

Miss Helen Bailey of Porter road, whose marriage to G. Roderick Cannon takes place a week from tomorrow, was pleasantly surprised twice this last week by her many friends. The first shower came on Friday night when the members of the Courteous Circle of the South church gathered at Miss Bailey's home and rained canned goods on her. A beautiful picture was also presented the hostess by the Circle and a most enjoyable evening was spent in music and games.

On Tuesday evening a number of Miss Bailey's friends of the Tye Rubber Company office assembled under the direction of Miss Anne Coleman, and sprinkled the house with miscellaneous articles both useful and ornamental. Here also the evening passed in fun and good fellowship, the delight of the hostess being equalled only by the pleasure the guests took in presenting the gifts.

Mr. Cronin to Mr. Bailey

Editor of Andover Townsman, Andover, Mass.

My Dear Sir:

Will you allow me the courtesy of your columns to express my congratulations to Mr. Samuel H. Bailey on his splendid victory, and to thank all those who assisted me in any way in my campaign. Standing alone and with limited means, I made the best fight I knew how—and lost. I have no apologies or excuses to offer.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM J. CRONIN.

Communication

To the Editor of the Andover Townsman.

My dear Mr. Cole:—

In a note received recently from Mr. Orth, whose Liszt reminiscences and recital we remember so well, he says, "I wonder if I ever had a lovelier time than last Thursday, playing and talking to the Andover people. It doesn't seem as if I ever did. I shall look forward to meeting you all some time again."

Mr. Orth also said that the programs were the best that he had ever seen. Will you be kind enough to publish this note in order that those who contributed to the success of the entertainment and gained so much enjoyment, may know that the pleasure was mutual and that you and the public may know that the good work of the Andover Press is recognized and appreciated.

Most sincerely,

MARY ALICE ABBOT
